Kurt Wirth Garlic Story by Rick Riley

Why didn't Kurt like garlic? While working for SC Johnson in Europe he had an Italian boss that he traveled and trained with. One evening they dined together and the boss had EVERYTHING with garlic on it.

In those early days working traveling companions shared a room for the night. (My how times have changed!)

In the middle of the night Kurt was overpowered by the Boss's "gastunk" of garlic, He couldn't sleep. So, he showered, got dressed and went and napped in the lobby of the hotel until morning.

I do not know if his discomfort was ever shared with his boss.

Kurt was not allergic to garlic, he just couldn't stand the smell of it.

THAT is the garlic story and why Kurt Wirth never wanted any garlic on anything.
