Vom Schreibtisch des Präsidenten

Dan Phillips
President, Western Michigan Region

It's about a week before Parade in St. Charles, IL, and our season is just getting into full-swing. Our recent events at the Gilmore and in Traverse City remind me of why I decided to get more involved with the club, why I love the club. It's the people we meet, it's the cars, it's the places we go, it's so many things. It makes owning a Porsche a truly unique experience, and there's always something fun to do with other enthusiasts.

As we get into July, there are many more events to come. I hope you're all planning on celebrating 50 years with us in August, as well as melting some asphalt with us at Grattan in September. Between now and then, there's Parade, our Tech Session, and the ever-awesome Red Barn Spectacular at the Gilmore on August 7th. As if that weren't enough, you can find some truly great automotive events just a short drive away (see page 12).

As for track time...Grattan registration is now open, and we only have a limited number of Novice slots. So sign up soon, and bring out your friends and their BMWs, Corvettes, Mustangs, and Ferraris too. We're a friendly bunch! There is a registration form as a loose insert in this month's issue, but please save us some work and register online at clubregistration.net. Contact Ted Blacklidge if you have any questions (see page 7).

Upcoming Events - WMR's 50th Anniversary

20-21-22.August.2010

We're celebrating our region's 50th anniversary in 2010! Come celebrate with us - it will be a weekend filled with Porsches, friends, and fun. If you don't have your invitation already, you will receive it shortly!

This is our golden anniversary, and we wanted to make it something very special. We are honoring Porsche, PCA, and you, our members, with a celebration of our region's past 50 years.

Think of it as a "mini Porsche Parade" in your own back yard. We are planning a number of events spread out over 3 days in August. Many members are already planning on spending the entire weekend in downtown Grand Rapids, the spiritual home of our region and the center of our celebratory weekend.

To pay homage to our rich history, we've secured the Calder Plaza for our Saturday morning Concours, a centerpiece of our special weekend. The photos you see here are from our 1973 event known as "Holiday on Wheels". As our membership has grown, we anticipate many more Porsches to surround Alexander Calder's legendary sculpture in August of 2010.

This will be a tremendous weekend, to be remembered by WMR members for decades. Your officers and a small group of devoted volunteers are working now to finalize details of all the events, and you can expect this weekend to be truly special. You will not want to miss it!

In Review: Gilmore Gathering, 23 June

Submitted by Rick Riley; Photos by Dan Phillips

It was a Dark and Stormy night....

Wait a minute, I used that line last year or was it the year before? Well anyway mother nature does not want us to have a free pass on our annual Gilmore Gathering. That morning was so dark I had to turn off the lights in my office just so I could see what was going on outside!

However the afternoon cleared up, still took the Blue Carrera, not afraid of the rain and weather tight!

When I got to The Gilmore Museum it was HOT! and sunny. Excellent.

Well, we had 12 Porsches and One Audi TT Driven by Peter and Dorothy Dykama (PCA members for many years previously).

We also were pleased to see 20 Club members including Larry and Earlene Baum. Larry has become very active with the Gilmore Museum, and I encourage all of you to get down there and see the new Franklin exhibit (new building) (and did you know Frankins were air cooled?), and tour the new NASCAR exhibit housed in the Larry and Earlene Baum wing!

It is hard to beat good friends, good cars and a rootbeer float at the Blue Moon dinner.

We had a great time with all the members that took the chance on the weather. See you down the road at the 50th, if not before!

In Review: Spring-Up to Traverse, 26 June

Submitted by Dan Phillips; Photos by Dan Phillips and Duane Weed

It was not a dark and stormy night...it was a brilliant, sunny day in Traverse City, Michigan. Twenty-four of Stuttgart's finest, piloted by your fellow clubbers from all over our region, converged on Traverse City for WMR PCA's 20th annual Spring-Up to Traverse weekend.

A number of members from the southern part of the region - including Shelbyville, Grand Rapids, Norton Shores, and Rockford - decided the Leelenau peninsula is just too beautiful for only one day, and headed up a day early to tour several local wineries and take in the oh-so-scenic roads. We even ran into a group from the Grand Valley Corvette club on their way to St. Ignace for the weekend.

The weather on both Friday and Saturday was heaven-sent, we could not have asked for more. But that didn't keep a guy in a Ford Fusion from putting his car in the ditch, as he pulled off the road without realizing there was no shoulder!

The Porsche team, however, managed to keep the shiny side up, notwithstanding the occasional mud slick from the recent rain. The picture-hunt drive put together by the Traverse City contingent was challenging but also a lot of fun, while taking our group through some of the most beautiful scenery Michigan has to offer, and giving us a bit of local history at the same time. I think about half of us were ready to buy a house and stay up there.

Later at the Knoll residence, Michelle Konstanzer and her team from Mt. Holiday Ski & Recreation Area catered the appetizers and dinner, both of which were simply outstanding. The stuffed pork loin and tilapia filets had everybody going back for seconds...and thirds... Awards for the rally winners, as well as some door prizes were given out after dinner, and many stayed until well after the stunning sunset to party with friends new and old.

Many thanks to Denny and Joyce Weise, and to Matt Wollam, for arranging such an excellent drive and lunch for our group. Steve and June Knoll, along with a lot of help from Tricia Wollam, did a phenomenal job of putting on a really classy event. This was the 20th year of Spring-Up, and somehow, it just seems to get better and better each year!

Porsche Wins GT2 at Le Mans

FIVE PORSCHE FACTORY DRIVERS TOP PODIUM AT 78TH LE MANS AS RELIABILITY AGAIN TRIUMPHS OVER SPEED; 911 GT3 STREET-BASED RACER SCORES NINTH WIN IN GT2

Stuttgart/Atlanta, June 13 -- The success story of the 2010 Porsche 911 GT3 RSR race continues at the 78 running of the 24 Hours of Le Mans as factory drivers Marc Lieb (Germany), Richard Lietz (Austria) and Wolf Henzler (Germany) piloted their German Felbermayr-Proton Porsche to a two-lap GT2 win over the second-place Ferrari earlier today. Two other Porsche factory drivers Timo Bernhard (Germany) and Romain Dumas (France) - on loan from Porsche to Audi's factory prototype effort - helped lead Audi's sweep of the overall podium. They drove with former Porsche factory pilot Mike Rockenfeller (Germany) to a one-lap victory in their Audi R15 TDI. All six LMP1 and GT2-winning drivers have either victories or championships in the American Le Mans Series as well.

As for the worldwide performance of the Porsche 911 GT3 RSR so far this year, the car that won the 24 hour race in Dubai and holds the championship lead of the Le Mans Series (Europe) and the American Le Mans Series, and was the most successful GT race car of 2009 has now won the GT2 class of the Le Mans 24 hour race.

This victory at Le Mans marks the 98th win (class and overall) for Porsche at the prestigious long distance classic. For the ninth time, a race car based on the street legal 911 GT3 prevailed over its rivals. Positions three, five, seven and eight also went to drivers of the 450 hp Porsche. Moreover, the winning 911 also clinched the environmental "Michelin Green X Challenge" award as the GT car with the best efficiency.

The basis for Porsche's success was this year again the reliability of the 911 GT3 RSR. Refueling, new tires, driver changes - the team mechanics of had nothing more to do from start to finish. "Pivotal for victory was that we had no technical problems and spent the least amount of time in the pits. This win was a team effort," said Marc Lieb, who celebrated his third Porsche GT2 win in Le Mans, finishing first in 2005 and 2006. Richard Lietz took home the coveted winners' trophy for the second time his victory in 2007.

Porsche's success is even more credible due to the fact that the 78th edition of the 24 hour race was one of the toughest in the history of the classic. The GT2 class in particular was excellently supported and fiercely contested with seven manufacturers and 18 race vehicles. With this victory, Porsche bested strong opponents Ferrari, BMW, Chevrolet Corvette, Jaguar and Spyker.

"We experienced an incredibly exciting race this weekend, especially in the GT2 class. I'm delighted that the Felbermayr-Proton squad won both the GT2 class as well as the 'Michelin Green X Challenge.' This shows that we're on the right path with our philosophy of Porsche Intelligent Performance. I'm also thrilled with the results of the other Porsche customer teams. They put up a great fight and earned their good positions. I'm proud as well of the three drivers in the winning Audi. Congratulations to them and the entire Audi team," said Hartmut Kristen, head of Porsche Motorsport.

Porsche Junior Marco Holzer (Germany) and his teammates in the BMS Scuderia Italia Porsche 911 GT3 RSR team, Richard Westbrook (Great Britain) and Timo Scheider (Germany), were also pleased with their third in class. All three drivers contested the Le Mans 24 Hours for the first time. For the two-time DTM champion Scheider, this was his first outing with a Porsche 911 GT3 RSR. "For us, it's a dream come true," said 21-year-old Holzer. "Le Mans is the most important long distance race in the world - and we climbed the podium at our debut. That's sensational."

The crew of the French IMSA Performance Matmut team had mixed feelings about their fifth position. Works drivers Patrick Pilet (France) and Patrick Long (USA) with teammate Raymond Narac (France) had kept up with the winning Porsche trio until the morning hours only to be held up by a clutch problem. "Today is a great day for Porsche and I'm pleased about that," said Pilet. "But of course we're a little disappointed not to celebrate a podium result at our home race."

Elation also permeated the driver squads of both 911 GT3 RSR that finished seventh and eighth as well: Both 911 were manned by gentlemen drivers. Finishing seventh were Dutchmen Paul van Splunteren and Niek Hommerson as well as Belgian Louis Machiels for the ProSpeed Competition team, followed by the second Felbermayr 911 with drivers Horst Felbermayr Senior and Junior (both Austria) and Slovakia's Miroslav Konopka in eighth.

The only American-based Porsche entry, the Flying Lizard Motorsports Porsche 911 GT3 RSR of Joerg Bergmeister (Germany), Darren Law (USA) and Seth Neiman (USA) was retired from the race due to mechanical issues. After starting ninth on the grid, all three drivers cycled uneventfully through their stints until halfway through hour four, when an incident damaged the right radiator. The crew replaced the radiator and front under-tray and repaired some minor body damage. Unfortunately, after one out-lap, the car had to return to the garage again and was retired due to its accident-related mechanical issues.

"Le Mans once again bites us very hard. It's not easy to accept being out of the race this early, but that's racing. I know our crew will examine every part of this experience and do what it takes to make us even stronger in the future," said team principal Seth Neiman.
