Always remember, what happens in the corners, stays in the corners.

Live by right-foot intuition. By a desire for exhilaration around every turn. By a newfound balance. Live by the Code of the Curve. Unlocked only by the track-bred prowess known as the new Porsche Cayman. With mid-engine dynamics, increased horsepower, a re-tuned Porsche Doppelkupplung (PDK) for lightning-fast shifting, a lighter body and acceleration from 0 to 60 in 5.4 seconds you'll never see a curve the same way again. Unlock the Code of the Curve with a test drive. Porsche. There is no substitute.

The new Porsche Cayman.

Dog Days of Summer with Porsches!

THE RED BARN'S SPECTACULAR AT THE GILMORE CAR MUSEUM is August 3rd, and we hope to have good showing (and not get shown up, car-count wise, by either the Corvair club or especially the Corvettes). It's a great opportunity to explore the barns and see the many changes that have been made. (Marshall and I have been trying to check out a different barn on each visit). The exhibits are tastefully done with more than just the common and not so common cars. Along with the cars are posters, clothing and other accessories of the appropriate periods. We are very lucky, especially as car enthusiasts, to have a car museum of this world-class caliber so close to home.

Congratulations from all of us in WMR PCA to Tim and Deb Thatcher on their July 20th Wedding!

And now...WE NEED YOUR HELP!! This is your club, and we are still looking to you, the members, to provide input and help. We are specifically looking for someone to help with the website (which Michael Betz has in fantastic shape, but would like to step down), and a person to assist with media communications...like Twitter re: special and/or charity events, etc. and possibly maintaining our Facebook page, although Dan and Michael are doing a wonderful job with that!

We are also looking for a new Über Alles editor, as Dan Phillips will be stepping down at the end of the calendar year. Dan will have served as editor for four years and has really made this publication pop! Ideally, Dan and the new editor would be able to work together for a couple of months as a transition period.

If you, or someone you know (including your children), would be interested in helping out with any of these roles (or anything else), please contact a board member. This type of experience could boost a resume! Also looking for suggestions for our designated charity for 2014 – contact a board member (or come to a meeting!). And don't forget about the board member elections – voting will likely be done on-line, so please make sure your PCA profile includes your current e-mail address. (A large number of e-mail blasts get kicked back each time a board member sends one out.)

WMR PCA's 5th Annual Golf Outing

Hosts: Arnie & Val Axelrod

Could this quite possibly be the best-kept secret in our diverse annual array of Porsche Club events? One could hardly ask for a better day, especially if it involves blowing off work on a Friday afternoon!

This will be the fifth year we've gathered at the stunning course at Egypt Valley Country Club, and it never fails to impress. EVCC is a private, members-only country club with a world-class golf course, beautiful facilities, and an excellent restaurant. If you're not a member, this is a rare opportunity to enjoy what Egypt Valley has to offer, from the immaculate (and challenging!) golf course, to a casual dinner with your PCA friends at the clubhouse after golf.

Our first tee-time will be at 2:00 pm sharp. You are welcome to come a little earlier to hit a few balls at the excellent driving range, or the adjacent practice greens, to brush up on your skills.

You must RSVP by 16 September to Arnie Axelrod at (616) 443-4901 or email amaxelrod@att.net.

Entry Fees: $75.00 per person, for 18 holes with cart, credit cards only, pay in the Pro Shop. Dinner at the clubhouse after golf, separate checks, credit cards only.

When: Friday, September 20th, 2013; first tee-times are at 2:00 pm sharp

Where: Egypt Valley Country Club, 7333 Knapp Ave, Ada, MI

In Review: Deutsche Marques at Gilmore

Text and Photos by Dan Phillips

Over 30 Porsches – some from WMR PCA, some not – gathered on the morning before our Charity BBQ for the 2nd Annual Deutsche Marques car show at the Gilmore Car Museum. What a turnout, and what a great show!

Started by the local chapter of the BMW Car Club of America and the Mercedes-Benz Club of Western Michigan, WMR PCA participated in big numbers once again, as did dozens of local Volkswagen owners. The rare and unique cars were out in force, including a stunning black BMW 3.0 CS (Tom Ripley of Gull Lake), and a funky orange VW

In Review: July Charity BBQ

Text by Marshall Walters; Photos by Marshall Walters and Carmine Bosco

WE’D LIKE TO START by thanking everyone who attended our July 13th pig roast, and special thanks to those who helped us clean up. We raised $640 for the Century Driving School charity, and collected almost 400 lbs. of food for the Feeding America West Michigan Food Bank. Luckily, the Impala has a big trunk!

We couldn’t have asked for better weather – Saturday was sunny and very warm, tempered by a slight breeze. The 56 attendees enjoyed a full afternoon of food (pulled roast pig with many fixings), sun, camaraderie, and pontoon boat rides (and, of course, gazing at three rows of beautiful cars in the grass across the road). Some of the younger attendees even went swimming, while most chilled in the house or shade of the driveway and, as we tend to do, talked the afternoon away. The food and company were all we could have hoped for.

An awesome pig roast!

Relaxing in the shade

Our collection for the Feeding America West Michigan Food Bank

Again, thank-you to all who shared the day with us, especially the six relatively new members/transfers: Matthew Axford, Mike and Cecilia Bowers, Mike and Sharon Minster, and John Stamp and Sue Cheeseman...and also the two members from the RSR Region (hopefully we convinced them to transfer to WMR).

TechSpalte: Carbon Buildup (“Choking Up”) in Direct Injection Engines

Contributed by WMR PCA member Tim Thatcher, ASE-Certified Master Technician and Owner, Euro Autowerks

THIS MONTH WE ARE CONTINUING THE DISCUSSION regarding carbon build-up (sometimes referred to “choking up”) on direct injected engines. We ask the following question: Is the problem of carbon buildup behind the valves 1) hype, 2) speculation, or 3) a real problem?

We have seen other manufacturers have occasional buildup issues, but to date we have not had any problems with buildup on Porsche, VW or Audi gas direct injection engines.

Buildup can occur in any engine due to valve overlap. This happens either when a valve is open and exposed to the combustion chamber or there is a breakdown in the PCV (Positive Crankcase Ventilation System) and EGR Systems (Exhaust Gas Recirculation System)

- The PCV system pulls vapors and air from the crankcase and into the combustion chamber via the intake system.
- The EGR system reintroduces exhaust gases back into the combustion chamber.

Direct injection has been around for years, not only in diesel engines, but in air-cooled aircraft engines as well.

It appears that the Porsche, Audi and VW group are ahead of the curve when it comes to this technology, and to date we have seen no problems with these engines. We have had pump and injection failures on VW and Audi products, but nothing to date on Porsche.

An example of carbon buildup in an engine's intake

There appears to be a picture floating around of bad build up on the back of valves for some of the earlier direct injected engines. We question whether this build up was the result of the direct injection system, or a faulty PCV system? I am betting it was the latter.

At this point I am ignoring the naysayers and negativity of those who anticipate problems before they occur. Most likely these same people do not like the ever-changing technology.

If carbon (choking up) does become a problem in high mileage engines, this carbon can be cleaned up by removal of the intake system. If it occurs, you will most likely need to repair the cause of it such as either a faulty PCV or EGR system.

Carbon has been building up on valves since the first efficient engine was built by Otto, so stay positive, enjoy your drive, and leave the worrying to others.

We want to invite all the WMR-PCA members who attended Parade, to submit their favorite picture of their car for possible use in our 2014 calendar. Pictures must have been taken while attending Parade. Please send a digital photo to us at admin@euroautowerks.com, be sure to include your name and contact information along with a few comments about the picture. Thank you in advance for your submission.

As a service to club members, we are offering sign your Tech Sheets for the Grand Prix of Grattan for no charge as long as you schedule an appointment no later than September 6th. Please call Tim with any questions.

Footnote: It was German engineer August Otto, who in 1866 improved and made a more efficient gasoline engine than others. Evidence shows that the Germans still know how to do it today!
